Customer Management System (CRM)

User Manual

Project Overview

This command-line CRM is written in Python and relies only on a CSV file to store customer data. On start-up the program reads customers.csv. Whenever you add, edit or delete a record, the change, together with a precise timestamp, is appended to customer_changes.log. The design is compact and classroom-friendly yet easy to extend.

File Structure & Start-up.

File	Purpose
Customer_Management_System.py	Main program
Customers_10000.csv	12-column data file (ID, passport, name, company, address, contact, date, website)
customer_changes.log	Auto-generated change log

Let's start with running the Customer_Management_System system. Open CRM.py in PyCharm file and run it.

You will see the Main Menu as like follow:
